

No place for extremism in ACT Senate race

Canberra, 26th April 2019

For Immediate Release

Independent candidate for the Senate in the ACT, Anthony Pesec today said, “As we remembered yesterday the sacrifices made by hundreds of thousands of Australians, including those that fought fascism in World War Two, it's important that we call out and stand up to extremist views, especially those that seek to foster division in society based on race and religion.

“That's why I'll be recommending to my supporters that they leave blank the box for Fraser Anning's Conservative National Party on the ACT Senate ballot.”
